PORTFOLIO

Sapna Sharon is an international artist, designer and entrepreneur, passionately leading her creative brand, Texturetones, following the success of her previous fashion label.

Since 2010 she has been into the creative business, expressing herself and connecting with others through painting, designing or illustrating.

Over the years, her love for painting and storytelling through visuals evolved into fashion illustration and intricate design work.

For over a decade, Sapna worked with private clients, creating illustrations and designs that brought their visions to life with elegance and precision under the brand name Reishas.

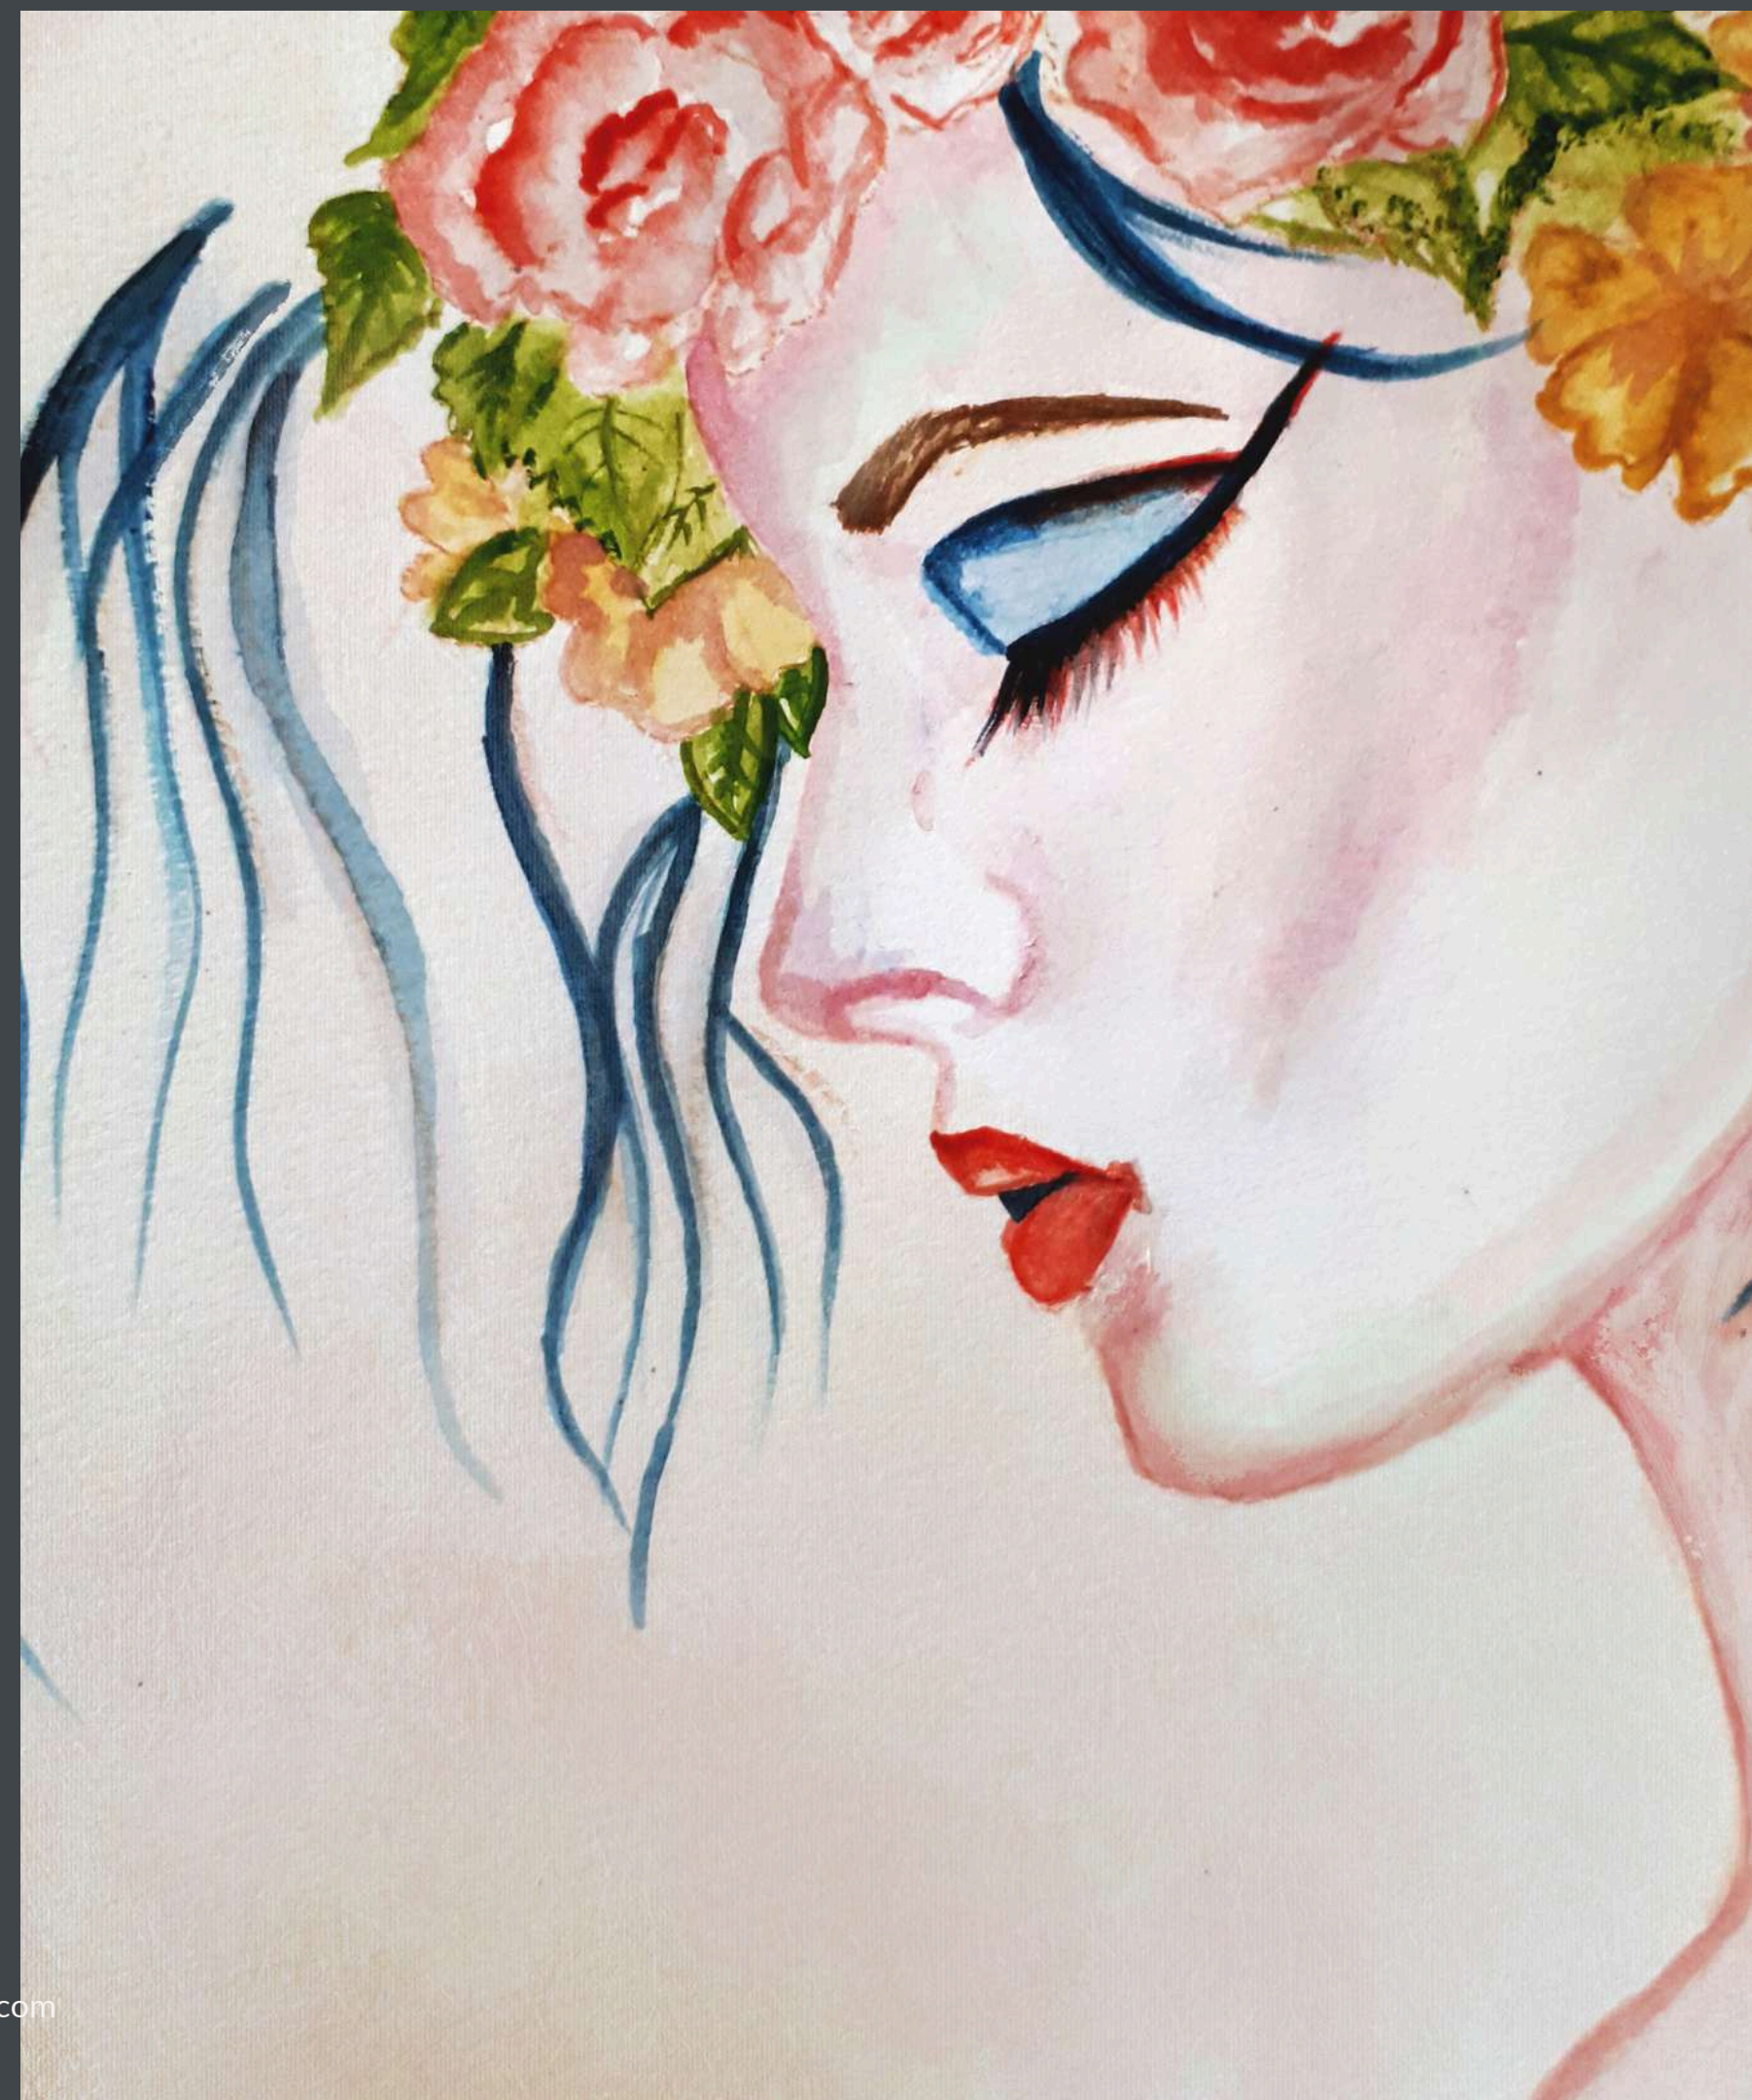

Each piece reflected her dedication to detail and her belief in the emotional connection that art can create.

Today, Sapna continues her creative journey through her brand Texturetones, where she explores new horizons in art licensing and print design.

She now aims to collaborate with brands to bring her artwork to life in new and inspiring ways.

TEXTURETONES

Texturetones is the creative brand, dedicated to producing amazing visual art .

The brand features a curated collection of artworks, both on canvas and digital, available as originals and prints that can enhance spaces as stunning wall décor or be transformed into unique products.

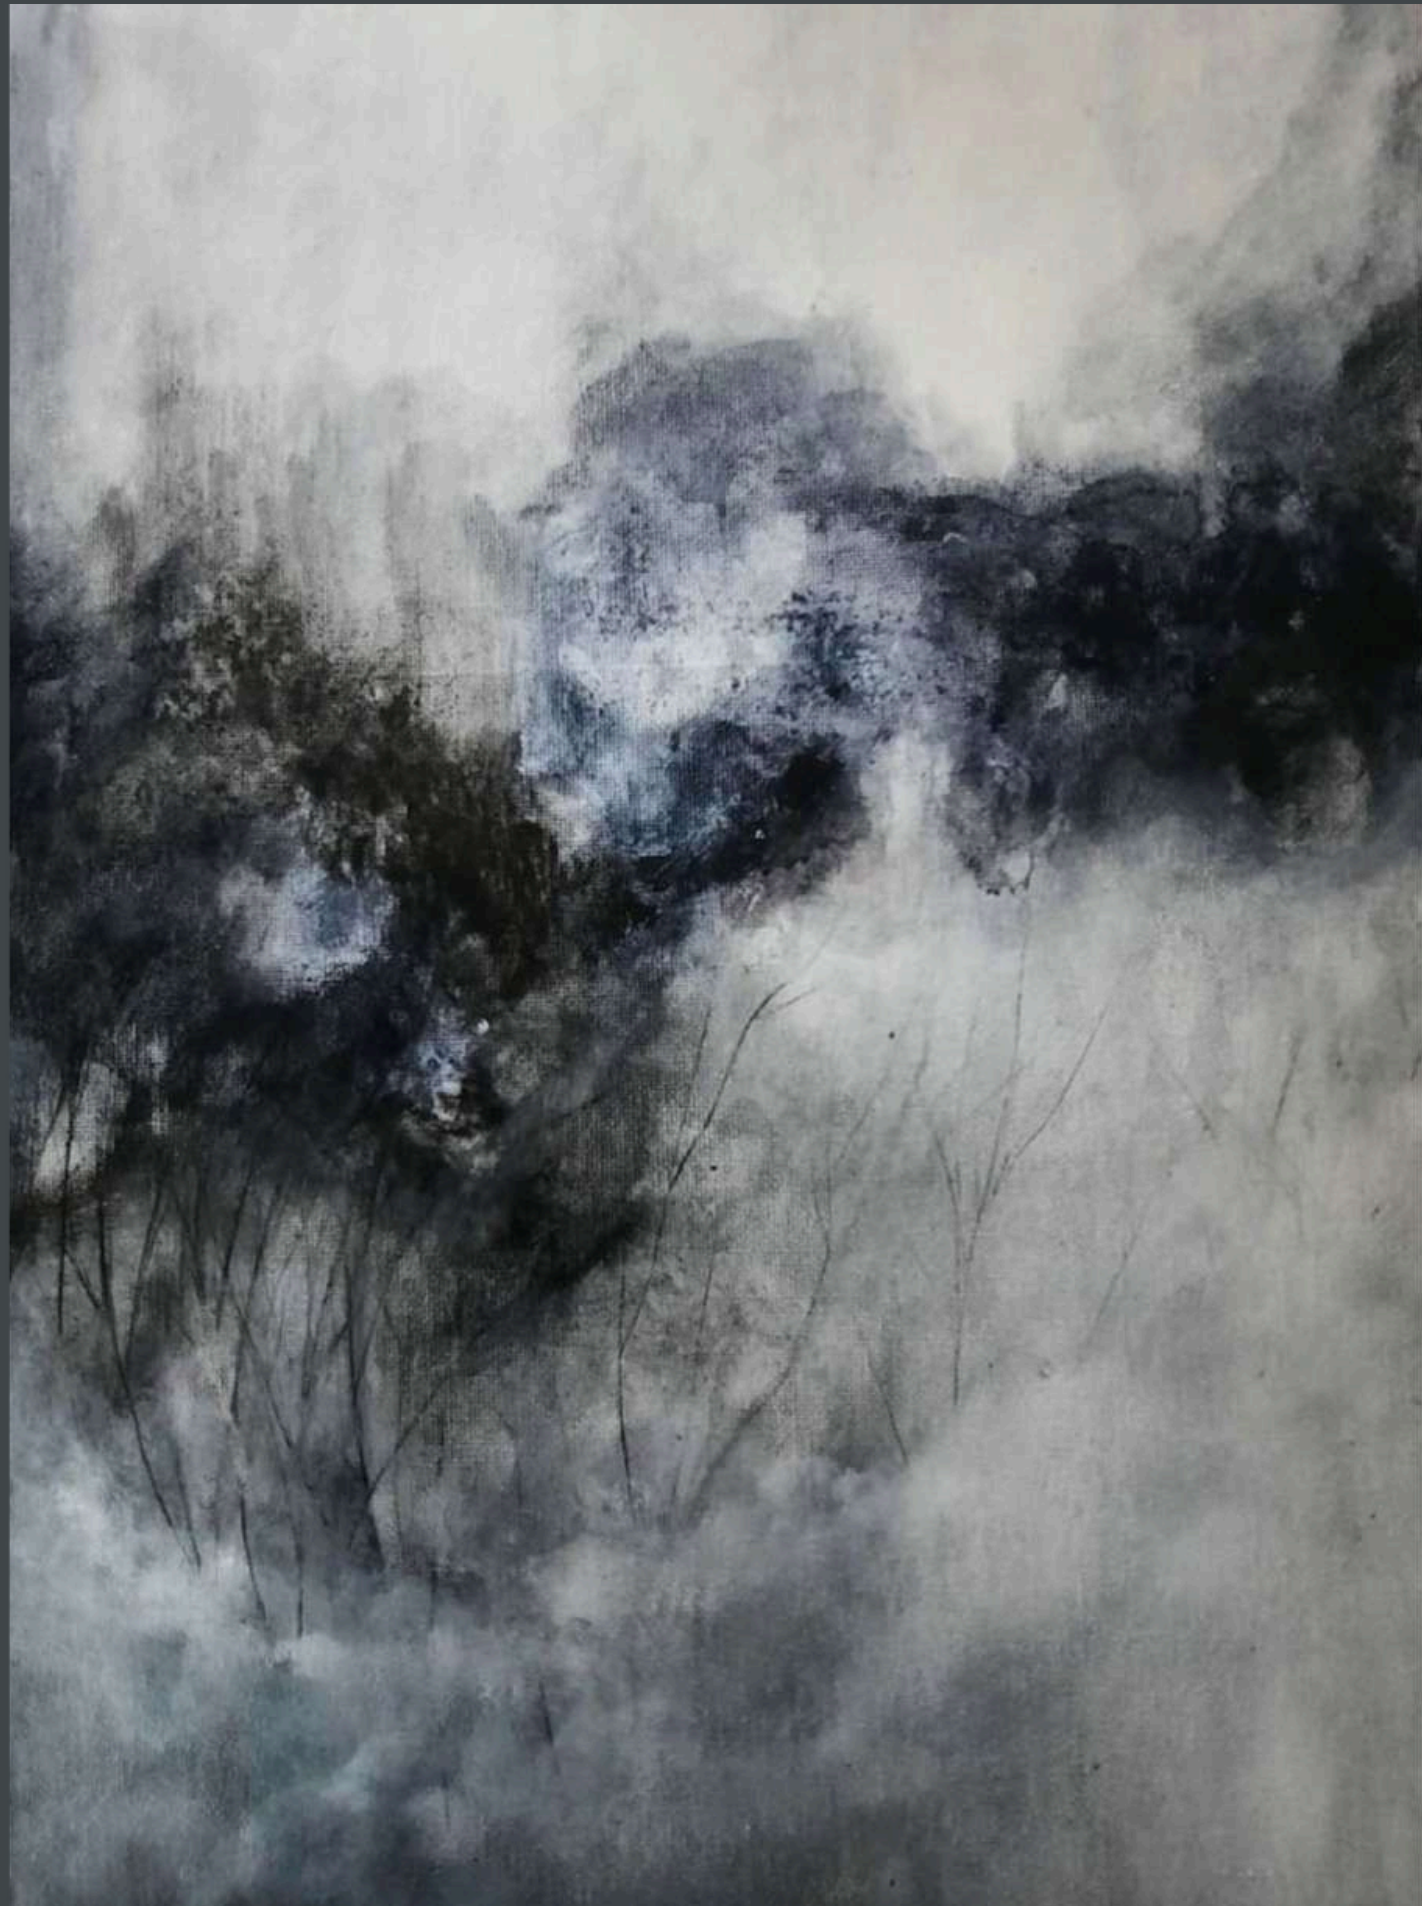

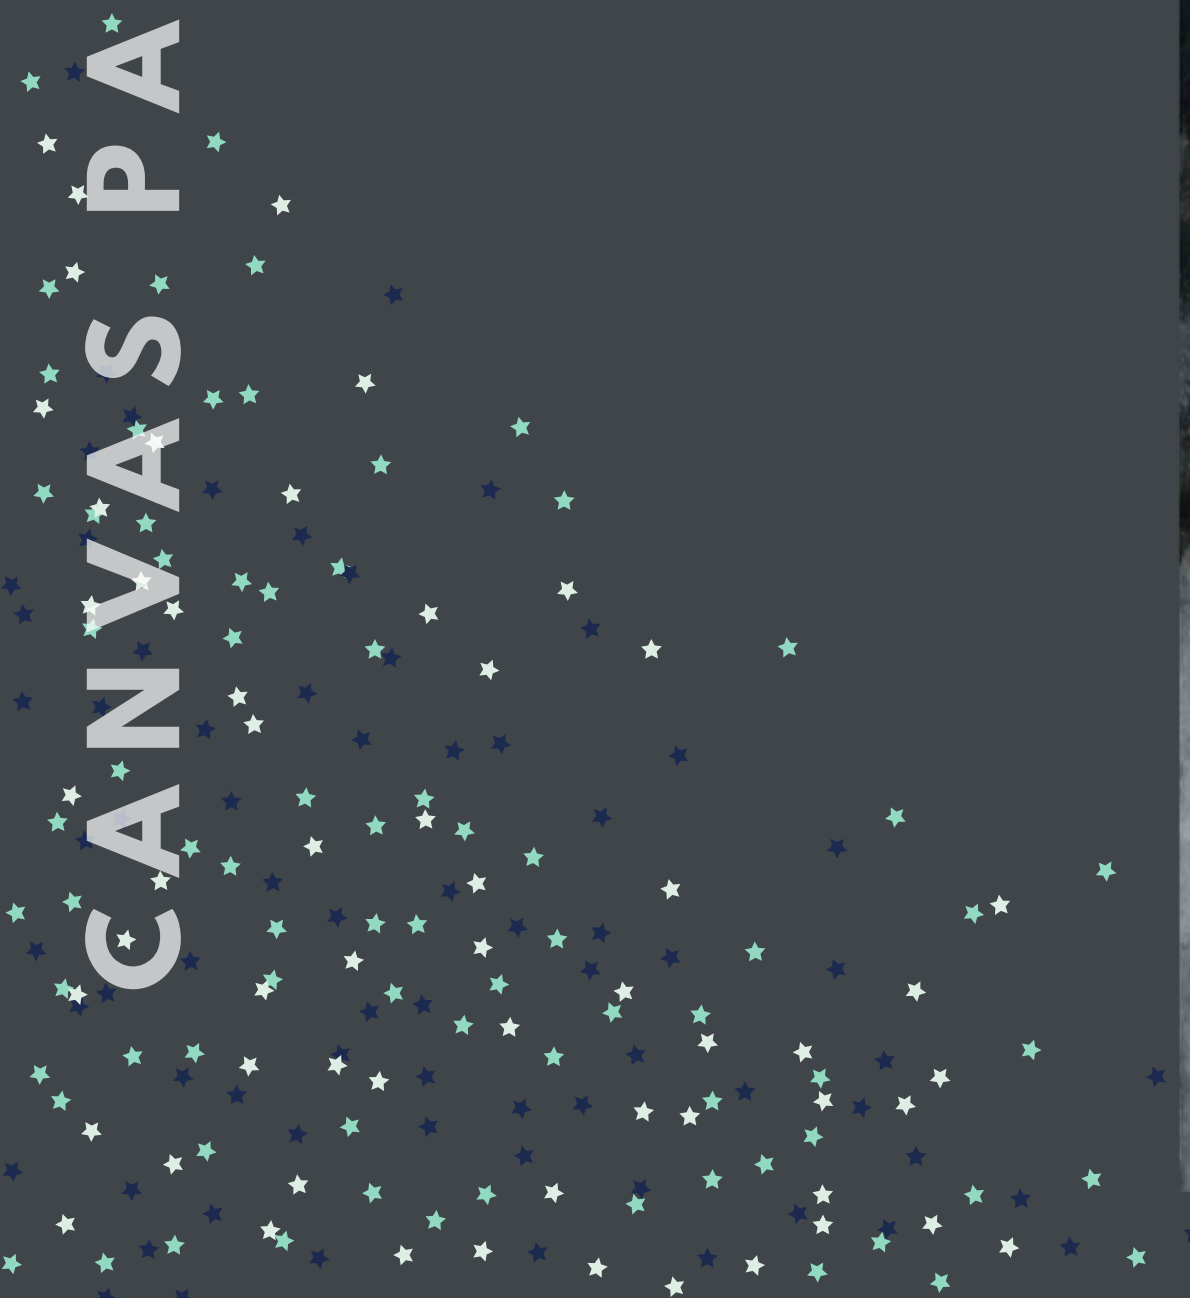

Texturetones also includes a dedicated collection for surface pattern design, crafted exclusively for textiles, home décor, and lifestyle products.

With its focus on both visual art and surface patterns, Texturetones aspires to see its creations not just as prints on walls but also as integral parts of products that add beauty and character to everyday life.
